Between seventy-five and a hundred people gathered at the McIntosh Park Conservation Area, in Berwick, for the annual Family Fun Day sponsored by McIntosh Park Committee in partnership with South Nation Conservation.

According to Floyd Dingwall, SNC Board member and a founder of the park, was established when Ray and Marilyn (McIntosh) McLeod donated the just over four acres of land to SNC a few years ago.

The McIntosh Park Committee is composed of community members and SNC representatives who work to fundraise in order to improve and maintain the park area.

One of these fundraising endeavours is a golf tournament, as well as the opportunity to plant a memorial tree which costs $300. Dingwall noted that about 50 trees have been planted at the park so far.

While the band CrossFire took a well-deserved break from entertaining, the crowd assembled and both McIntosh Park Committee member Tammy McRae and Angela Coleman, SNC Director, thanked everyone for coming to the event, making special mention of Floyd Dingwall, Lawrence Levere, Elise Lefebvre and Thierry Gibeault who were busy at the strawberry shortcake station.
